PROJECTS

Library Stock Management App – Built using MERN Stack

The Library Stock Management System is a full-stack website developed using the MERN stack. Users can check the availability of books in the library through this website and only the admin can handle the book stocks by logging in using the given id and password. Link

Contact Management App – Built using MERN Stack

Developed a dynamic Contact Management web application using the MERN stack. Implemented user authentication with access tokens to ensure secure access. Users can seamlessly register, log in, and manage their contacts, with features including adding, editing, and deleting contacts. Link
